Greetings Kevin,

i heard part of your presentation to D4CE;

you stated that "viruses" are not your area of expertise;

you claim to have had "COVID-19" and hence "the virus"; you claim there is a valid reason for testing for the allegedly "viral" sequences;

"viruses" are said to be replication-competent intracellular obligate parasites that transmit between hosts and cause disease via natural modes of exposure;

"COVID-19" is said to be a respiratory disease caused by the alleged "SARS-COV-2"; as you must know, it is impossible to validate a test for something that has never been shown to exist;

as you must know, it is impossible to validate a test for an alleged "viral disease", or for an alleged disease-causing "virus", before the alleged "virus" has been 1) shown to exist, and 2) shown to cause a disease; therefore, i require you to share the proof you have that 1) "SARS-COV-2" exists, and 2) "SARS-COV-2" causes disease, and 3) any people have ever had "covid-19", because no one else on the planet has been able to do this thus far;

i will publish your response or non-response, as the case may be.

written in good faith without recourse, Christine-Anne: Massey

Kevin,

is that your final answer?

Christine
